ABOUT MANILDRA GROUP

First established in 1952 with the purchase of a single flour mill, the Manildra Group of companies has undergone steady growth. The company is now the largest user of wheat for industrial purposes in Australia processing some 1 million tonnes of wheat per annum.

The refinery was built in adjacent to the Co-operative’s Harwood sugar mill in northern New South Wales. It employs the latest computerised technology for the efficient production of a range of cane sugars.

Refined sugar is transported in specially built rail wagons and is available in bulk, semi-bulk, packaged or liquid forms.

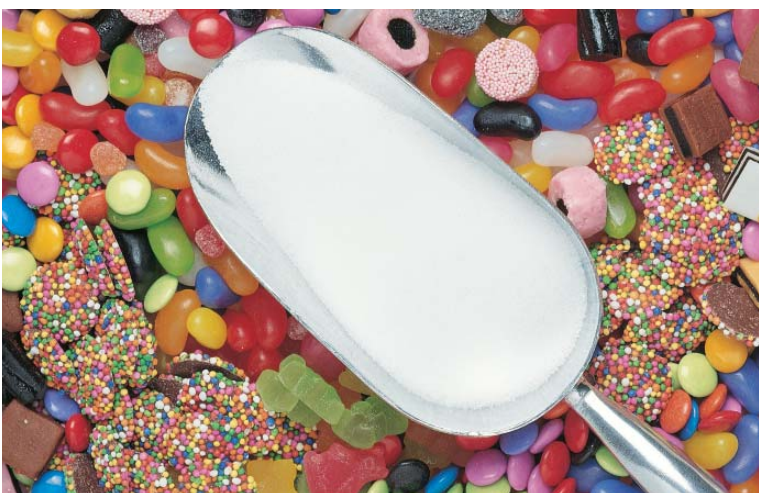

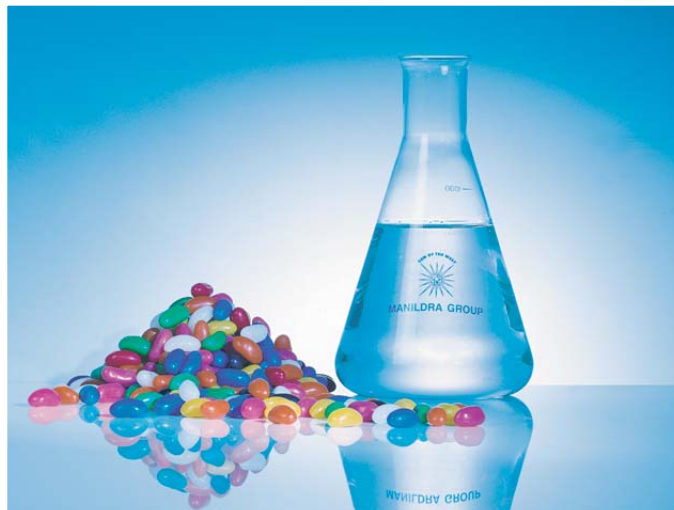

GLUCOSE

Since 1973 Manildra Group has been producing glucose from our starch plant located in Nowra, south of Sydney.

This plant produces a range of glucose syrups and spray dried powders, for the general food and beverage industries.

Constant innovation has led to our glucose being fully demineralised giving it a longer shelf life.

Manildra, through being technologically advanced and efficient has grown to be the largest producer of glucose in Australia.
